SOFT SKILLS

Skills

I bring an analytical mindset to technical troubleshooting, ensuring efficient solutions to complex faults. My ability to collaborate effectively in group projects and laboratory environments is paired with a high attention to detail, particularly in hardware handling and technical documentation. Furthermore, I pride myself on my effective communication, as I can easily translate technical jargon into simple, actionable terms for non-technical users.

TECHNICAL SKILLS

Skills

I am proficient in hardware assembly and maintenance, with hands-on experience in diagnosing and upgrading components such as CPUs, RAM, and motherboards. I have a strong command of operating systems, specifically installing and configuring Windows 10/11 and Linux distributions like Ubuntu and Debian. Furthermore, I possess knowledge of web development, utilizing HTML and CSS to create and style structured, responsive user interfaces. Additionally, I am experienced in managing virtual environments using Oracle VM VirtualBox and VMware, and I possess advanced skills in office suites and collaborative tools like Google Workspace.
